The Little Girl

Has someone ever inspired you?
Made you happy and never blue,
When the sun arose she made you smile
It's a little girl I haven't seen in a while.

The Lord took her long ago from the bedroom bed
My father holding her delicate head,
Then the Lord spoke to me, spoke my name, and heard my plea.
I knew right then what I wanted to do, pursue my dream with whatever I do.
You see this little girl named Cassidy taught me to be who I wanted to be.

She educated me to be my own person not caring what others thought.
And not to be embarrassed at what I taught,
Christians aren't supposed to hide; they're supposed to teach far and wide.
But most of all she showed me originality, and to show others my personality.
I thank God for this little girl,
The one who taught me to be who I wanted to be.

I am...I have...I shall be...

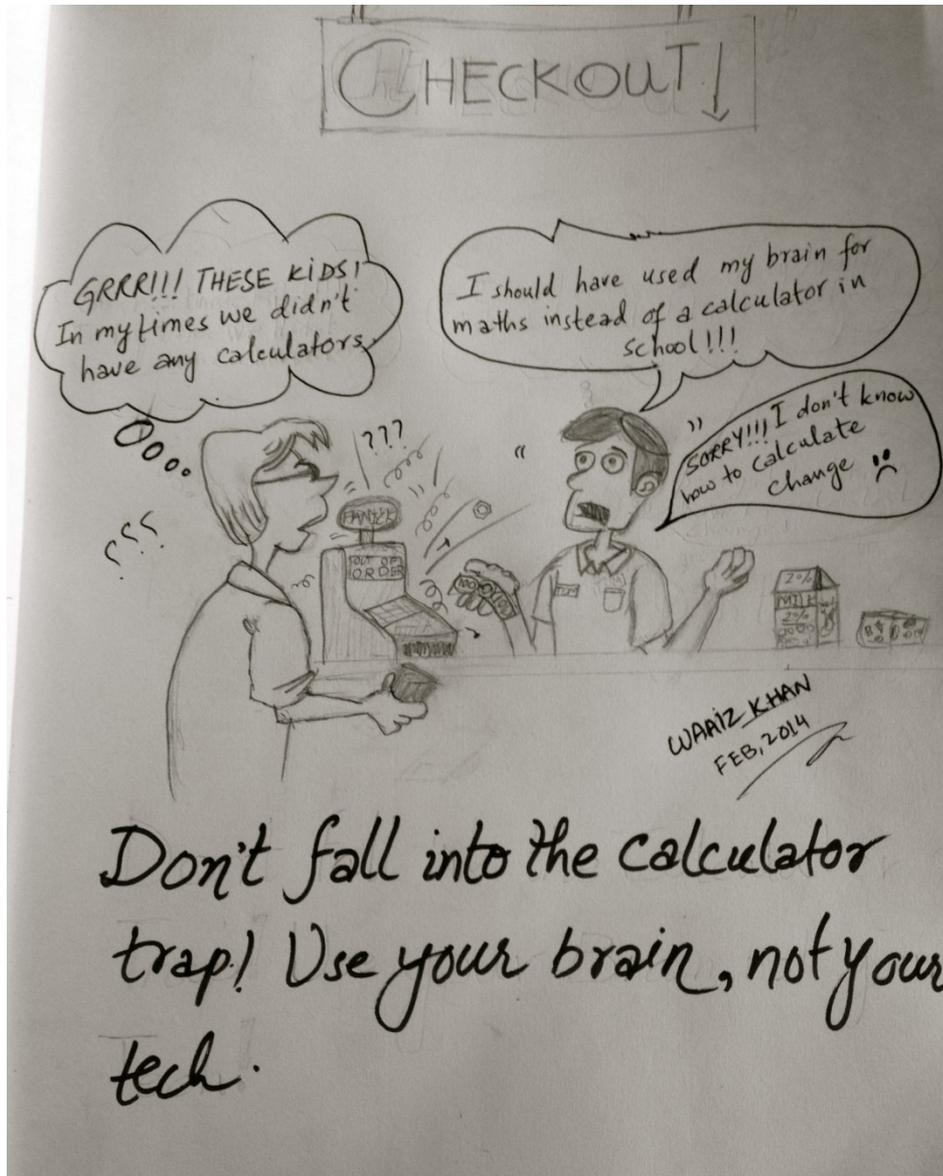

Fearfully and wonderfully made.
His treasured possession.
The apple of his eye.
A light to others and to the world.
Chosen and dearly loved.
Special and uniquely made.

Strength to do all things.
Peace, purpose and power.
Called, chosen and cherished.
My own way of doing things.
Hope, love and self-respect.
A protected heart and mind.

Honest with my works.
A light to let others see.
True to myself with all honesty.
Creative, I am my own.
Blessed to use my own words.
Mindful being unique is special.
I am Me. I have Hashem. I shall be blessed.
